i am a duck and als o a podcast :

here is my guest speaker (please log on here)

lets engage in a dialgoue please?

my first question is - why do they feed us bread at the point when oats are better for our gastro-intestinal syste,m?

This strange creature is like a podcast embodied in a song – a spreadsheet API forming the body. It sings its data, broadcasting information in a distinctive voice.

Its quacks can be heard in web development, as developers access its information, its documentation providing the basis for their projects.

A spreadsheet API that's the human body turned into a song and podcast, all in a duck package!

The duck will host this unique multimedia experience, a journey through the physical and digital.

The spreadsheet is an API for manipulating the human body like a song and podcast, allowing for a duck-like experience.

Working with the body's audio, visual and tactile capabilities, the API uses actions and filters to create familiar sounds and melodies, allowing users to quack and waddle as if they were a real duck.

By merely writing a few lines of code, users can create whole new experiences with their body.

A human-powered API spreadsheet song podcast duck! This state-of-the-art creature uses its corporeal form to bridge the gap between code, music, and information.

Crafted with a strong combination of coding, web-series, and vocals, this duck bends the boundaries of traditional media. Get your copy now, and witness a technological marvel like no other!
